

Legislature Rebuked By Williams; Treasury $19,000,000 Short

LANSING—(P)—State legislators were on their way home today leaving the state general fund for the next fiscal year some $19,000,000 short and smarting from Governor Williams' parting rebuke that their efforts were "totally inadequate."

The principal task of the wind-up session was to approve a $14,000,000 increase in the state corporation franchise tax, but this and a host of details took nearly 10 hours to complete.

Opposition In House
The house was the big stumbling block for the franchise tax boost. A conference committee compromise worked out in the month-long legislative recess passed the senate unanimously with no fuss.

But when it hit the house, it ran into a storm of opposition from both parties. The house had

Washout Wrecks Illinois Train; 2 Persons Dead

SHELBYVILLE, Ill.—(P)—The Chicago and Eastern Illinois passenger train, the Meadowlark, hit a track wash-out near here last night and somersaulted down a 30-foot creek embankment. Two crewmen were killed and a dozen passengers injured.

The diesel locomotive plowed down the steep grade approaching a trestle and plunged into swollen Brush Creek. The four cars of the train tumbled behind it.

The fireman and mail clerk of the train were killed. Fireman C. L. Mills, 64, of Salem, Ill., was pinned beneath the locomotive, partly submerged in the raging creek waters. The body of mail clerk Robert Boatright, also of Salem, was found in the baggage car. The engineer, J. R. Beach of Villa Grove, Ill., reported the train, from Chicago to Cypress in southern Illinois, hit a rain-weakened section of the track.

Weary Senate Passes Bill To Curb Rollbacks

Controls Won't Meet Truman's Request

WASHINGTON—(P)—A bill to extend price, wage and rent controls eight months but which would curb drastically or possibly ban any new price rollbacks was passed by the Senate early today.

The bill, which falls far short of the kind of measure President Truman contends the country needs to combat inflation, was approved at the tag end of a tumultuous marathon session by a roll-call vote of 71 to 10.

Stop-Gap Expected
Weary Senators sent the bill to the House, which plans to shunt it aside temporarily and act instead—probably later in the day—on stop-gap legislation to extend the present controls law 31 days.

The House bill as cleared by its rules committee would prohibit any price rollbacks during July—the proposed life of the measure. It also would bar fixing any new price ceilings during the month.

The current law expires at midnight tomorrow. House leaders have decided against considering at this time the longer range extension approved by the Senate.

Will Get Together
So the Senate appeared to face the alternatives of (1) going along with the House on a stop-gap extension or (2) letting the controls program lapse. Agreement on a brief extension seemed to be the likely choice.

Senator Maybank (D-SC), floor manager of the Senate bill, declared he had no doubt the Senate and House would get together. "We're not going to let the controls program collapse—you know that," he told a reporter.

But a spirit of optimism was apparent in U. S. Eighth Army headquarters.

A high South Korean government source predicted the shooting war would stop within "the next few days."

In Tokyo Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, was reported ready to carry out at a moment's notice any instructions he might receive from Washington to end the war.

Men Are Jubilant
Sources at Eighth Army headquarters speculated that Kaesong, ancient capital of Korea, would be a logical place to talk about a cease-fire order. The town is three miles south of the 38th parallel, west of the western front. The Reds still hold it.

While possible truce plans of military leaders were shrouded in secrecy, doughboys in the line were jubilant over prospects of an end to the fighting. But they kept a wary eye on the Reds.

Front line dispatches said Thursday night was one of the quietest nights of the war and there was little change Friday.

Two dignitaries were conspicuously absent from the party—Trygve Lie whom the Russians do not recognize as U. N. secretary general, and Nationalist China's Dr. T. F. Tsiang. Tsiang has made it clear he would not attend a Soviet social even in the unlikely event the Russians should ask him.

Gagged By Kremlin
Whether Malik will now disappear behind the Russian delegation's local iron curtain again and leave further truce talk to the Kremlin was still undetermined.

The Soviet delegate has been bothered by heart trouble for years but his latest disappearance act is believed to involve a "diplomatic illness"—in other words, the Kremlin doesn't want him to talk any more right now.

Acting Postmaster Who Opened Letters Loses Out For Job
DETROIT—(P)—An acting postmaster who opened some mail to find out how his two rivals for the permanent job were coming along, must serve two years on probation.

Federal District Judge Arthur A. Kocinski yesterday granted the probationary sentence to Julian Zachowski of Newport instead of a year's imprisonment.

Zachowski had pleaded guilty July 1 to a charge of tampering with the mails. His action cost him any chance of becoming postmaster, and also his job as postal clerk.

White House Cancels Hot Weather Leaves
WASHINGTON—(P)—The White House has ordered a halt to the custom of many government agencies here to send workers home if the heat and humidity reach a certain point.

In ordering a halt to such group dismissals, a White House ruling says individuals suffering acutely will be allowed to go home. But such time will be deducted from their annual vacation leave.

Gen. Ridgway Will Dicker For Armistice In Korea

Shooting War Quieted; Allies Are Optimistic

Cease-Fire Prospects Cheer Up Soldiers

TOKYO—(P)—Chinese Reds hurled small attacks early today at the center of the United Nations line on the generally quiet Korean front.

Fighting died down across the peninsula as cease fire talk increased.

There was more activity in the air. Propeller driven U. N. Mustangs tangled Thursday with Red jets. One Russian-made jet was damaged, the Mustangs unhurt, Far East Air Forces said. Two American jets were shot down by ground fire.

Attacks Beaten Back
On the ground a few hundred Reds struck in the early morning darkness Friday in the Kumhwa area. A series of earlier Chinese attacks in this same corner of the old "iron triangle" were beaten back during the night and daylight hours Thursday.

Communist radios at Pyongyang in Korea and Peiping in China ignored cease-fire talk.

United Nations sources in Japan and Korea would not comment.

But a spirit of optimism was apparent in U. S. Eighth Army headquarters.

A high South Korean government source predicted the shooting war would stop within "the next few days."

In Tokyo Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, was reported ready to carry out at a moment's notice any instructions he might receive from Washington to end the war.

South Korea Solos Oppose Cease-Fire Along 38th Parallel

Earlier a high government source said he felt the shooting war in Korea would stop within "the next few days."

This source did not elaborate.

Tax Increase Bill Assured Of Rough Sledding In Senate

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today he has a "suspicion" the administration is seeking a big tax hike this year to avoid having to ask for another one just before the 1952 elections.

Taft's comment to newsmen—he emphasized it was only a suspicion—was just one of several indications President Truman's tax proposals are in for rough sledding in the Senate.

Elmer B. Staats, assistant budget director, was invited before the Senate finance committee today to renew the administration plea for a $10,000,000,000 tax boost.

This would be $3,000,000,000 more than the House approved. The $7,200,000,000 House measure was the biggest single revenue bill ever voted on Capitol Hill, but Sec-

Secretary Of Defense Marshall May Retire

WASHINGTON—(P)—There was new speculation in the capital today—lacking official confirmation—that George C. Marshall might seek to retire this fall as secretary of defense.

In general this talk, which was current on Capitol Hill among other places, appeared to be predicated on two points:

1. The approaching anniversary of Marshall's appointment. He took office on Sept. 21, 1950.

2. Revival of reports current at the time of his appointment that he accepted the post for only a limited time.

President Truman announced selection of Dan A. Kimball, undersecretary of the Navy to succeed Francis M. Matthews as secretary. Matthews has accepted appointment as ambassador to Ireland. Kimball has been undersecretary since early 1948. Before land.

Airline Pilots Walkout Ended

CHICAGO—(P)—A pilots strike that has halted operations for 10 days on the vast United Air Lines network was ended today by a truce. The union ordered its 900 striking pilots to return to their posts at 3:45 p. m. EST today.

The truce agreement was announced by Thomas E. Bickers, executive secretary of the national mediation board, after a pre-dawn meeting with representatives of the company and the striking AFL Airline Pilots association.

His board will attempt immediately to mediate the dispute.

The Airline's service in this country and to Hawaii had been crippled by the walkout.

About 900 pilots and co-pilots struck after failure to reach a wage agreement after two years of negotiation.

Their union, the AFL Airlines Pilots association, asked higher pay to offset loss of flying time through use of DC-6-B aircraft, a newer, larger and faster plane.

Killer Believed Back In Pontiac

PONTIAC, Mich.—(P)—The fear that accused killer Warren Lee Irwin may have returned to the scene of his crime kept lights burning in rural Oakland county last night.

A touchy population made more than 120 telephone calls to police, claiming to have seen the 27-year-old ex-convict, hunted in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Adeline Shagena of Oxford.

None of the tips provided clues to Irwin's whereabouts, officers said.

But lights burned all night in the wooded area near Oxford, where Mrs. Shagena was slain early in June, and where Irwin reportedly was seen earlier this week. Some housewives locked their doors.

Oakland county officers planned to add extra men today to follow up the reports. They are seeking a slightly-built man in a khaki shirt, wearing glasses, driving an old Chevrolet coupe.

Czechs Will Free Western Airmen Held Since June 8

WASHINGTON—(P)—The state department said today Czechoslovakia has agreed to release two western pilots and their U. S. jet fighter planes. They have been held since they made emergency landings near Prague June 8.

It said the Czech foreign office gave Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs a note which promised to free the pilots and the planes, but did not state when. The Czech note was in response to a vigorous protest made this week by Briggs.

The planes, on a training flight in the American occupation zone of Germany, made emergency landings near Prague on June 8.

Seymour Lewis, Gladstone, Dies

Seymour Lewis, 42, of 620 Michigan avenue, prominently known Gladstone business man and leader in civic affairs, died last evening at Pinecrest Sanatorium, Powers.

Mr. Lewis was born in Chicago June 18, 1909. He attended primary school and high school there and received his degree from Northwestern university.

He married the former Anita Rosenblum in Detroit February 2, 1936, and lived there until they moved to Gladstone in 1942. He established the Lewis Dress Shop in Gladstone a short time later.

Mr. Lewis was a member of the Gladstone Rotary club, the Gladstone Golf club, Gladstone Yacht club and Men's Bridge club. He also was a past president of the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce.

Surviving are his wife and two daughters, Linda Ann and Barbara Jo, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lewis of Gladstone.

The body was taken to the Kelley funeral home where services will be held Sunday. Burial will be in Marinette.

Floods, Drought And Tornadoes Plague Crops In Midwest

(By The Associated Press)
June's violent weather—tornadoes, windstorms, rains, hail and floods—has exacted a staggering toll over the mid-continent.

Scores have been killed and injured. Damage to crops and property was in the millions of dollars—and mounting.

The most destructive blows from nature's elements have hit Kansas and Missouri. In Kansas alone, floods and storms have caused an estimated $22,000,000 to $24,000,000 damage to crops.

But other midwest states have been hit by the late spring and early summer storms, including Oklahoma, Nebraska, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota and Ohio.

Southern Louisiana Dry
While floods were a major problem in Kansas and Missouri it was the lack of water that caused much concern in drought-stricken southern Louisiana.

There was a measure of relief last night as rains blanketed the 180-mile drought area. The falls ranged from one to 3 1/2 inches in the heart of the sugar cane and rice region.

The drought there has been so severe that traffic over the intra-coastal waterway—a main artery for the east-west gulf water traffic—is threatened.

Army engineers pondered whether to open locks to let the waterway fill with salt water from the Gulf of Mexico. But farmers in the Louisiana's rich rice bowl feared the salt might damage their $40,000,000 rice crop.

Wheatland Under Water
Flood waters covered hundreds of thousands of acres in Kansas and Missouri. The Missouri flood area stretched from Kansas City to St. Charles, near St. Louis, inundating 300,000 acres.

There was no drinking water in Sedalia, a city of 25,000 population. In Kansas, between 200,000 and 300,000 acres of farm land, much of it wheatland, were under water.

Manhattan and Junction City expected the biggest flood of the year from the Kansas river. Water was 10 inches deep in front of the Manhattan City hall. Store fronts were sandbagged. Many families in both cities were forced from their homes.

National guardsmen were on 24-hour duty in Topeka, patrolling dikes along the surging Kansas river.

Bulldozer Dropped From Plane By Chute

DAYTON, O.—(P)—A giant, 19,000 pound bulldozer has been successfully parachuted from a Fairchild C-119 cargo plane, the air force said today. It was the heaviest load to date dropped safely from an airplane. Six 100-foot-diameter parachutes eased the giant machine to earth. It was in full operation five minutes after landing.

Peace Efforts Go Cautiously In Washington

Sincerity Of Red Bid To Be Tested

WASHINGTON—(P)—The government today sent Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway general instructions on negotiation of a cease-fire in Korea.

Just what they are was not disclosed in the official word given out here. But informed sources in London said they had the support of all the 16 United Nations with fighting forces in Korea.

The moved pointed to some early action—perhaps within hours—to determine whether a truce can in fact be arranged.

In Korea itself, fighting had largely died down under a wave of cease-fire talk. There was some patrol and air activity but the front on the whole was quiet.

Parallel Deal Opposed
Ridgway was at his Tokyo headquarters but there were rumors he might leave for Korea at any time.

William J. Sebald, U. S. diplomatic chief in Japan, flew to Pusan, Korea, and conferred for more than an hour with John J. Muccio, the U. S. ambassador to Korea. No official announcement was made as to their discussions.

A spokesman for the South Korean government, Clarence Rye, said he felt the shooting war would stop within "the next few days."

The South Koreans were unhappy, however, over the prospect of a cease fire along the 38th parallel—the old border between North and South Korea. Their legislature adopted unanimously a resolution opposing it.

In Congress here, there was also some opposition expressed to a cease-fire on the old border.

Fingers Crossed
The official announcement that instructions had been sent to Ridgway, the United Nations commander in Korea, was made by Robert A. Lovett, deputy secretary of defense.

Lovett gave no information about those instructions, but did say Ridgway would have to report back to Washington on any proposed terms for ending the fighting.

President Truman held a meeting with his cabinet—a usual thing on Friday. Presumably, the Korean situation had a high

Camp Harstad Opens Monday

Handicapped Children To Enjoy Summer

Thirty handicapped and crippled children of the Delta county community will enjoy the summer at Camp Harstad, opening Monday on the Ford River bay shore for its second consecutive year.

The camp site on a sand beach was donated to the Escanaba board of education by Ole Harstad of Bark River, and the camp was erected by service clubs, labor unions and volunteers as a community project.

Thirty-six youngsters are registered for the camp opening, but Clifford Roberts, camp director, expects the average attendance will be about 30.

Report At 9 a. m.

Roberts is a member of Escanaba Junior High school faculty. In the past he had experience in Scouting, served with the Oakland county YMCA and was camp supervisor for three years. He received his master's degree at University of Michigan in camp organization, counseling and guidance.

Parents of children registered for Camp Harstad are asked to bring the youngsters to Escanaba Junior High school at 9 a. m. Monday the first camp day. For the rest of the camp period the children will be transported from their homes or central points to camp and return by school bus.

Clarence Moore, physical therapist, who directed Camp Harstad last year, is this summer taking graduate studies in special education sponsored by University of Michigan at Ypsilanti. Moore will return before the camp period ends.

Camp Staff Named

Camp Harstad will operate five days each week from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. for about seven weeks.

Betty Jane McMartin will supervise arts and crafts work for the children. She is a student of occupational therapy at Wayne University.

Counselors will be Mary Shepeck, Betty Nantell, Martha Moran, Connie Gallagher, Lynn Bergman, Mary Boucher and Barbara O'Donnell.

The children will receive a noon lunch at camp, including a hot dish, milk, and other food for a balanced and hearty meal. Mrs. Ethel Hennessy, cook at the Stranklin school, will prepare the meals at Camp Harstad.

To Aid Children

A program of activities and rest and recreation has been arranged for the handicapped youngsters who will attend Camp Harstad.

About one-half of the children enrolled are orthopedic cases, and the others include those with defects of speech, sight, or hearing, and special education students.

There will be one counselor for each five children, permitting individual attention to the needs of the child. Morning will be devoted to work in arts and crafts to assist in developing coordination and skills. Games will be played and swimming will be carefully supervised.

A rest period after lunch will include a story hour for the younger children, and the afternoon will include swimming, games and other activities.

Parents and interested adults are invited to visit the camp.

THOSE IN UNIFORM

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nedow of Cooks, Mich., from Major General Ruffin, word was received that Pfc Robert E. Nedow, Corps of Engineers U. S. Army, Company B, 2nd Engineer Combat Battalion, 2nd Infantry division, distinguished himself by heroic achievement on March 8, 1951, in the vicinity of Yang Jimal, Korea.

Pfc. Nedow was a member of a mine sweeping team which had taken cover to eat their noon meal. The infantry ahead was moving in against a well dug in enemy who had excellent field of fire and was tenaciously holding ground. One of the attacking United Nations soldiers was wounded.

When a call went out for litter bearers, private Nedow responded immediately and disregarding his personal safety, entered the field of fire and went through an open terrain to the wounded soldier. Despite the enemy's automatic weapons and sniper fire, he was able to assist in returning the wounded man to safety.

The selfless attitude and courage displayed by Private Nedow reflect great credit upon himself and the military service.

He entered the service from Michigan, and arrived in Japan in Yokohama, February 19, 1951.

County Appeals In Maskart Case

Notice of general appeal to the supreme court in the case of Alphonse Maskart vs. Board of County Road Commissioners of Delta county has been filed by counsel for the road commission with the clerk of the Delta county circuit court.

Maskart sued the county road commission following a traffic accident in Gladstone in which he was injured and the truck he was driving was damaged in a collision with county road equipment.

A circuit court jury decided for Maskart and awarded a $5,000 judgment. The verdict was upheld by Judge Glenn W. Jackson and a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict and for a new trial were denied.

Attorneys McGinn & Fitzharris, counsel for the road commission, thereupon filed for a general appeal to the supreme court.

LOST 30 LBS. HEALTH BETTER RENNEL HELPS

"For years I had trouble with my back and left leg. I had hot flashes and found it hard to breathe. My weight was 190 lbs. Then my health gave out and my doctor ordered me to reduce," writes Mrs. Sadie Rellinger, Coleman, Mich. "My fat was poisoning my system. I turned to Rennel Concentrate and in five months had my weight down to 160 lbs. Now my hot flashes are gone and my leg and back are much better."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomforts of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasure of feeling younger and more alive. Try Rennel and notice the admiring looks you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Just go to your drugstore and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results, return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Insist upon genuine Rennel.

Lamprey Boat To Come Here

Will Be Open For Public Inspection

The Fish and Wild Life Service will send its lamprey research laboratory boat to Escanaba this weekend for public inspection during the national convention of the Outdoor Writers Association of America, June 30 to July 7.

The 60-foot research vessel has been used for investigations of the sea lamprey which is menacing the lake trout population in the Great Lakes. The boat will tie up at the municipal dock.

Dr. James W. Moffett, chief of the Great Lakes fishery investigations, will give a report on the lamprey problem at the outdoor writers seminar at Bonifas auditorium Monday evening July 2.

Born in Utah

Dr. Moffett was born in American Fork, Utah, Aug. 3, 1908. He was awarded his AB degree from the University of Utah in 1933 and MA degree from the same institution in 1935. He received his Ph. D. from the University of Michigan in 1939.

After a few years with the Institute for Fisheries Research, Michigan Department of Conservation, Dr. Moffett joined the U. S. Fish and Wild Life Service in 1943 and undertook studies of national parks in the West.

Studied Salmon

In 1949, Dr. Moffett transferred to salmon investigations in West coast rivers and in 1944 assumed charge of the Fish and Wildlife Service's project concerned with the conservation of salmon and other fishes in relation to the construction of the Shasta and Friant dams in California's Central valley. He was placed in charge of the service's Great Lakes fishery investigations in January, 1951.

Burton To Give Welcome Address At OWAA Session

Charles Burton, well known Gladstone sportsman, will deliver the address of welcome at the OWAA convention's opening session at the Bonifas auditorium at 8:30 Sunday night.

Burton, who worked for the Forest Service several years, has fished, hunted and trapped in Alaska. His topic will be: "Welcome to Michigan."

J. Hammond Brown, Baltimore, president of the OWAA, and Don Gillies, Detroit, president of the MOWA, will give brief talks.

The program will be concluded with outstanding outdoor movies shown under the direction of Martin Bovey, well known writer and photographer of Concord, Mass.

Ensign Flier On Important Bomb Mission

Lt. Edward C. Cayemberg, Route 1, Ensign, Mich., navigator with the Third Bombardment Wing in Japan, recently navigated a mission in which a .40 mm gun emplacement and eight trucks were destroyed and seven trucks damaged. The mission was a night attack by a B-26 Night Intruder.

The B-26 Night Intruder was patrolling the eastern front lines when they spotted a 20 vehicle convoy heading south.

Attacking at low level with a bomb load equal to the B-17 of World War II and fifty caliber, the light bomber accounted for eight trucks destroyed and seven damaged.

About this time, a 40 mm anti-aircraft gun opened up on them. Lt. Cayemberg pointed out the gun's position to the pilot and in two straffing passes with the B-26's fourteen forward firing .50 cal., it was silenced; finishing the night's work for the light bomber crew.

A graduate of the 1951 class of Navigation at Ellington Field, Texas, Lt. Cayemberg is currently serving with the famed 3rd Bomb Wing's B-26 Night Intruders.

Gladstone Preserves Favorite Sport Of Old-Time Lumberjack

THE old-time lumberjack sport of log birling will be revived by Gladstone when it stages its nationally - publicized Rolec on Wednesday, July 4.

After a few years' lapse, Gladstone revived its Rolec on a scaled-down financial budget, but even though the cash prizes were reduced the veteran log rollers are coming to compete from all parts of the country. Apparently, birling gets into a birler's blood.

Birling developed years ago out of the thrilling and dangerous work on the spring log drives. In the early days of lumbering in this region, millions of feet of timber were floated down the Sturgeon, Whitefish, Escanaba and Ford rivers to the hungry sawmills that buzzed away at the mouths of the streams.

In the spring of the year the river driver was king. He was the lumberjack who faced the hazards of log jams. Wearing caulked-boots and holding pikepole in hand, the driver skipped from log to log with the grace of a ballet dancer. His job was to keep the logs moving downstream, always alert to prevent jams.

When jams did occur it was then that the dangers increased in the skill of the nimble-footed lumberjack was brought into bold relief. Using the pikepole, he tugged at a log here and another there in an effort to locate the key-log, the one that held up the mass of timbers piling up like match sticks. Once located and dislodged, the jam disintegrated and the logs floated again on their way to the mills.

As the torrent of logs broke loose, the river drivers scrambled from log to log toward shore. Some of them didn't make it, and went down to a watery grave.

Lumberjacks learned to be adept at handling themselves on a tricky log. For sport, two would get on a log and roll it

Private Power Industry Sees Much Expansion

LEADERS in the private power industry have appealed to Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson for a larger allotment of metals for their industry.

They have pointed out that unless materials are made available the production of much-needed generators, boilers and turbines might be seriously delayed. The industry's power expansion program calls for an expenditure of two billion dollars this year alone.

Consumption of electric power has increased manifold in the United States in the past decade, despite the huge hydro-electric dams built in the Tennessee Valley, at Bonneville and other places, the construction of steam and diesel electric generation plants also has boomed.

Consumption of electric power has risen, of course, with the increased use of electrical appliances in the homes, more lighting and the huge expansion of manufacturing facilities for civilian and military purposes.

The experience in Escanaba is a case in point. In 1939, the City of Escanaba purchased 6,000,000 k. w. h. of electrical energy from the Upper Michigan Power and Light company. In 1950, this figure had multiplied more than three times to 22,000,000 k. w. h.

Increased use of electricity by the City of Escanaba is overtaxing the generating facilities of the Upper Michigan Power and Light company and the Escanaba Paper company. Notice has been given to the city council to begin making plans for installing its own generating plant.

There is in fact a shortage of electric power in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. One of the frustrating situations that is confronting the U. P. Development Bureau and Chambers of Commerce in their efforts to attract new industry is that scarcity of power precludes the possibility of bringing a large-sized manufacturing plant to the area.

Some serious thinking about the power problem should be done soon if there is to be any hope of substantial industrial development in the Upper Peninsula.

Safety Director Heads Fire And Police Depts.

ESCANABA no longer has fire and police chiefs, but the two departments will continue to be supervised by a public safety director, a policy adopted by the Escanaba city council a few years ago.

The two departments here are headed up by Director Glenford S. Leonard, who prepared for a public safety career by special study at Michigan State college and actual experience in Lower Michigan cities.

Integration of the fire and police departments is a plan that has been followed with success in many American cities. It has made possible a more efficient use of city personnel in times of fires, serious accidents or other emergencies.

Ki's Are Kids

By Gordon Martin

Parents suffer much anxiety when kids are old enough, to be having dates and taking part in lots of social stuff. And sometimes a worried father will declare it is the truth, that when he was young nobody had to cope with carefree youth. He would have you think that youngsters then were angels all the time, and that nowadays the way they carry on is sure a crime.

Did he never join in silly pranks that didn't do much harm, or perhaps stay out till early morn and cause his folks alarm? Did he never, when he took his girl to dinner and a dance, get her home so late her papa said there'd be no more romance? Did he never keep the car too long and burn a tank of gas, while he worked so hard at showing off before his favored lass?

Well, perhaps he was a model guy who never made mistakes, and perhaps he saved his parents from a lot of pains and aches. But if so, he was exceptional and surely not the rule, or he simply has forgotten all those far-off days in school. Kids are kids today, as yesterday, which can't be called a crime, and they'll still be kids tomorrow and until the end of time.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Senator George Aiken was once governor of the rock-ribbed Republican state of Vermont, one of only two states voting for Alf Landon in 1936. Aiken is a frugal gentleman as are most Vermonters, but he writhed as he sat listening to Senator Byrd of Virginia lead a drive to cut appropriations for school lunches, juvenile delinquency, the women's bureau and the children's bureau.

Finally Aiken could stand it no more.

"An $80,000,000 ship is being built at Newport News, Virginia," he told Senator Byrd, who used to be governor of Virginia. "It will be turned over to one of the shipping lines for $28,000,000 or a gift by Uncle Sam of $50,000,000. That gift is 50 per cent more money than we plan to appropriate for maternal and child welfare work in this country under the budget cuts.

"Does a five-year-old child have any cash value?" continued the usually mild-mannered Vermont senator. "What is it worth to restore a crippled person to a place where he is self supporting? What is the cash value of a healthy mother, as compared to a sick one? Are we to determine this in terms of dollars and cents, and decide the fewer the cents the better off the country will be?"

"To hear the talk this afternoon," Aiken added bitterly, "one might assume that we ought to drown all our children and mothers and get them out of the way. Then they wouldn't cost us anything."

PEACE OVERTURES

It is no longer a secret that U. S. delegates to the United Nations have been working with other U. N. members for some time on a Korean truce proposal and that comrade Malik jumped the gun on them.

The most important issue in these discussions, however, has not leaked out—namely, the differences of opinion regarding two highly controversial points: 1. disposition of Formosa; and 2. seating the Chinese Reds in the United Nations.

The U. S. proposal, discussed with 15 other U. N. nations by U. S. Ambassador Ernest Gross, was to postpone any consideration of Formosa or seating the Reds until after all other conditions had been ironed out. The state department was completely adamant on this, and maintained that we would not discuss these two points even until: 1. the whole Korean question had been settled, and 2. all troops had been withdrawn.

This was the chief stumbling block between ourselves and some other U. N. members.

Other points in the propaganda truce agreement were fairly simple—namely, a 20-mile demilitarized zone north of the 38th parallel, and an agreement that there would be no more bombings, no more guerrilla warfare, and no more troops or equipment moved into Korea by either side during the truce.

The above terms were somewhat similar to those which President Truman sent to General MacArthur for his perusal just before Easter and which MacArthur subsequently issued as his own. MacArthur's jumping the gun was one fact which contributed to his ouster. The president, however, is in no position to oust comrade Malik for likewise jumping the gun when he heard that the U. N. and the U. S. A. were working on a truce.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

The subpoena which the Senate crime committee is issuing for Governor Warren of Florida will set a precedent which some senators think should be applied to Governor Dewey. They want to question Dewey as to why he released Lucky Luciano when Luciano had a 30-50 year jail sentence yet to serve. . . David Lilienthal, ex-head of the Atomic Energy commission, made a special call at the White House to warn Truman that the new AEC is giving out entirely too much secret information in its press releases. A gold mine for the Russians is in the AEC press announcements, Lilienthal told Truman. . . The belated announcement of Tennessee's aged Senator McKellar that he will run again has left young, energetic Congressman Albert Gore out on a limb. Previously, McKellar had made a gentleman's agreement that he would retire, leaving the way open for Gore. As a result, Gore had made a gentleman's agreement with other Tennessee congressmen that he would give up his seat, and his congressional district could be split among them. This solved the problem of who would lose a seat, when Tennessee gets cut down one congressman next year. However, Gore is now out in the cold, unless he decides to tackle the veteran McKellar.

Expedition Will Investigate Mystery Of Chubb Crater In Hudson Bay Area

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The National Geographic Society and Toronto's Royal Ontario Museum today announced a joint expedition to far northern Canada to explore the recently discovered Chubb crater—a giant depression in the earth that closely resembles the craters of the moon.

Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the society, disclosed that Dr. Victor Ben Meen, 40, noted Canadian geologist and director of the museum, will lead the expedition.

The party will leave by air in mid-July for the barren crater site in northern Quebec between Hudson Bay and Ungava Bay. The scientists expect to land on a nearly ice-free lake and make camp as near the boulder-strewn crater as is possible. Then for the next month, using the most modern scientific instruments including mine detectors, they will search for the secret of Chubb crater's origin.

Some of the highly specialized equipment required by the expedition was secured through the cooperation of government agencies with Dr. Lyman J. Briggs, retired director of the U. S. bureau of Standards and chairman of the National Geographic Society's committee on research.

Dwarfed Atom Bomb Explosion

Dr. Meen believes Chubb crater was made by a plunging meteorite which exploded when it struck the earth between 3,000 and 15,000 years ago. If it was a meteorite, Dr. Meen said, the explosion easily dwarfed the noise and destructive power of a present day atom bomb.

It blasted a round hole over two miles wide and hundreds of feet deep. It raised a rim around the hole averaging 400 feet high. The shock smashed far into bedrock and showered five billion tons of granite over the surrounding countryside as ridges or splash marks—much as a blot of ink leaves splatter marks.

Dr. Meen had a preliminary look at the crater last year when he surveyed the area in the company of Frederick W. Chubb, a prospector for gold and diamonds who first spotted the deeply gouged scar, and for whom it is named.

Its appearance suggested a tilted cup with one side considerably higher than the other.

"We started up the 25-degree slope of the rim," Dr. Meen recalled. "It seemed to be a jumbled heap of fragments of granite. At length, after a climb of nearly 300 feet, we set foot on the top and looked down into the crater. We were so awed by what we saw that I don't believe we spoke or even shook hands.

"Hundreds of feet beneath us lay a perfectly circular lake, cupped in a crater whose walls rose steeply in a slope of 45 degrees. No sound broke the stillness except the continuous grinding of the ice on the water far below and the wind blowing across the crater rim.

"From where we stood," said Dr. Meen, "it was more than 11,000 feet to the opposite side of the rim.

"We were looking down into what may well be the greatest crater of its kind anywhere in the world."

Colorado leads the country in the production of livestock and hay.

HANDIWORK OF A GIANT METEORITE?—Scientists interested in the middle of Chubb Crater look for that question to be answered this summer when the huge scar gouged out of northern Quebec is explored for the National Geographic Society and the Royal Ontario Museum. Speculation is that a mighty missile from the heavens hit the area between 30 and 150 centuries ago.

First Liberian Iron Ore Arrives In United States

Six muskets, one barrel of powder, six iron bars, ten iron pots, one barrel of beads, two casks of tobacco, 12 knives, 12 forks, 12 spoons, one barrel of nails, one box of pipes, three mirrors, four umbrellas, three walking sticks, a box of soap, a barrel of rum, four hats, three pair of shoes, six pieces of blue baid and three pieces of white calico.

This was the price the American Colonization Society paid in 1822 for a stretch of jungle on Africa's west coast now known as Liberia, according to the National Geographic Society. Today the jungle republic, which has been called "America's stepchild," is growing up in a hurry.

The Liberty ship Simeon G. Reed left the new harbor at Monrovia, the Liberian capital, early in June, bound for the United States with a cargo of high-grade iron ore. This is the first shipment from Liberia's iron-rich Bomi hills, 41 miles inland, which are expected to provide about a million tons of ore a year when peak production is reached in 1952.

Iron Discovered Early

A century ago, freed American slaves who had settled in Liberia sent samples of iron ore back to friends in the United States. In 1858 a national fair was held at Monrovia, and native blacksmiths exhibited ploughs, hoes and other implements made from native ore.

The iron in Bomi hills, discovered by the Dutch in 1834, was commercially ignored until 1947 when an American firm began to cut rail and motor roads through dense jungle from Monrovia to the mines.

Liberia has many ties with the United States. An independent republic since 1847, its government is modeled after that of Uncle Sam. About 12,000 descendants ants of the original settlers from America now have extended their influence throughout the 112,000 square mile interior with its estimated 1 1/2 million tribesmen.

Point-4 Program at Work

Geological surveys of the republic suggest the presence of diamonds, gold, and petroleum. Liberia's fertile soil supports vast rubber plantations, already supplying large quantities for export to the United States. During World War II, Liberia supplied one-fifth of the natural rubber used by the Allies.

A Liberian development program, expected to take five to ten years and to cost $32,500,000 has been under way since last December, when a Point-4 agreement was signed by the United States and Liberian governments. Focal points of the program are engineering, agricultural aid, health, education and public administration.

Good Evening . . .

BIRDS AND BEES—The more thoughtful among our people are becoming increasingly alarmed over the widespread use of DDT solutions in the control of destructive insects.

Fears have been expressed that not only will the pollen carrying bees become extinct, with consequent loss of pollination activity for fruit and flowers, but even the birds of the air will die. The birds eat insects, you know, and if there are no insects or if they are poisoned and then eaten by the birds, something dreadful is going to happen.

Cottagers at Garth, however, are properly grateful for the DDT spray used to kill off the spruce bud worm infestation on Hiawatha National Forest.

A shift in the wind blew the spray westward and now the hordes of mosquitoes are no more. The moral is, therefore, that it is an ill wind that blows no good; or, a dead mosquito carries no sting.

FOR THE NATURALISTS—Escanaba residents will not be so fortunate when the city forestry department sprays the street shade trees to kill off the aphids.

Robert Clayton, parks and forestry superintendent, said a nicotine sulphate spray will be used. This is effective only against aphids and other soft-bodied insects. The mosquitoes and the bees will be unharmed.

Seriously, there is genuine concern among many people who feel that man's wholesale slaughter of insects will throw nature out of balance for centuries to come.

They do not frown on specific control, but fear indiscriminate poisoning does no good for anyone, including man.

BIRTH OF A SINGER—While the following has nothing to do with nature in balance or not, we thought you might like to know how hill-billy singers get their start.

Talking with B. I. Mohundro of Fayette the other day we learned that his son, W. W. (Wellman Wylie) Mohundro is home for a couple weeks visit. Wellman is a singer of western and hill-billy tunes, spends his winters in Miami, and last summer appeared on telecast programs in New York.

At an early age Wellman revealed promise by beating out a rhythmic cadence on the dishpan in the old Mohundro homestead at Fayette, where he was born. One thing led to another and the first he knew he was taking music lessons and doing right well on the guitar and harmonica.

The perennial popularity of folk tunes, pseudo and otherwise, opened the door to his career. He now hits the night club circuit, wintering in Florida and playing the north in summertime. Radio appearances are frequent. From here he goes to New Jersey, where they like music out of the Hills and the Old West.

Note: Wellman received his middle name (Wylie) for an uncle, Col. Wylie O'Mohundro, U. S. Army, currently engaged in pursuing Communist North Koreans.

NOT IN THE CONTRACT—The other day we overheard two men discussing the predicament of a Delta county night club operator who has a dancer who dances very well, but has no inclination to imbibe strong drink.

This led to a discussion between the young lady and the proprietor, who assumed that night club employees, one and all, would do their best to encourage the drinking proclivities of the customers.

"I am a dancer. I dance—and drinking is not in the contract," said the young lady with overpowering logic.

Fact is, so the story goes, the young woman will not even stand at the bar and drink ice water or weak tea.

AN OLD REMEDY—Getting back to nature, let us present the story of an aching chipmunk, told by a man who has his home among the birds and bees on the south bay shore.

Returning from work one evening the man discovered the chipmunk on the ground, apparently dead, four tiny feet reaching skyward. Closer inspection revealed a twitch of the chipmunk's whiskers.

The chipmunk was tenderly carried inside the cottage. Opening a cupboard the man took out a bottle he kept for medicinal purposes, pried open the chipmunk's jaws, and administered a couple drops of the alcoholic beverage.

Well, said the man, the chipmunk coughed twice, shook his head, wiggled his whiskers, ran three times around the room on his hind legs, opened the screen door and dashed into the woods.

The next day the chipmunk came back to ask for a pencil and a piece of paper. He wrote a testimonial and requested that his picture appear in the magazines as a Man of Distinction. But when the man told the chipmunk he needed a shave to look distinguished, the chipmunk turned up his nose and called the whole thing off.

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

An inauguration is literally an auspicious occasion.

The words inauguration and auspicious carry us back to ancient Rome when people believed in omens and looked for them on every important occasion.

When we trace the history of these words we find that auspices referred to the members of a religious order in Rome, whose duty it was to observe the heavens and interpret the approval or disapproval of the gods from the flight of birds. Such a bird observer was called an auspex, or augur.

Sport Fishing Records Made

Report On Creel Census Released

Michigan's estimated 1,556,000 or more sport fishermen last year set two new state records and came close to establishing a third one, according to a 1950 creel census just completed and released to the nation's outdoor writers here today.

Those fishing Great Lakes waters (Michigan portion) hooked a record high 4.48 fish per hour of angling while trout water fishermen caught a record low .63 fish per hour of trying. Those fishing inland non-trout waters, by far the largest army of anglers, creeled 1.65 fish per hour of fishing for the highest success average in 13 years.

Previous High in 1949

The Michigan conservation department reports the previous high on Great Lakes and connecting waters of 3.06 fish per hour was set in 1949. Previous low on trout waters of .68 fish per hour was recorded in 1933; record high was 1.17 fish per hour in 1928. Highest success average on non-trout waters was 1.68 fish per hour in 1937.

The 1950 catch report, compiled by the department's institute for fisheries research, is based on interviews with 53,844 fishermen including nearly 6,000 nonresidents and nearly 9,000 female anglers. The estimated 1,556,000 or more total anglers includes 1,056,000 licensed fishermen and at least 500,000 others who legally fished free. The last category consists of wives of licensed resident fishermen, children under 17 and those fishing only in the Michigan portion of the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

Many Bluegills Taken

Of the 28 species of fish known to have been taken by non-trout anglers, bluegills were hooked the most, comprising about 43 percent of their total catch. Bluegills and perch combined accounted for over 72 percent of the total non-trout take.

Brook trout made up nearly 65 percent of the total catch from trout waters. Brook, brown and rainbows constituted over 96 percent of all fish caught in trout waters.

Michigan has 11,037 inland lakes and 36,350 miles of streams in addition to the state's portion of the Great Lakes and connecting waters.

Plans For Seaway Are Not Realistic, Claim

ANN ARBOR—Development of the proposed St. Lawrence Seaway project is economically unjustifiable and unrealistic in terms of modern shipping, according to a marine engineer at the University of Michigan.

Present-day shipping designs require waterways with at least thirty-five foot depths for sea-going vessels—eight feet more than the planned twenty-seven foot deep seaway, Prof. Louis A. Baier, chairman of the University's Department of Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering, explained.

Even if sea-going vessels were able to navigate the St. Lawrence, a tremendously expensive dredging operation would be needed to make ports like Buffalo, Ashtabula and Detroit accessible to such vessels, he pointed out.

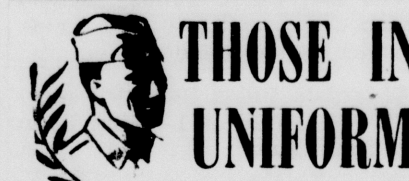

Professor Baier, a recognized expert in the design of Great Lakes ore-shipping vessels, indicated that Detroit, for example, can presently accommodate vessels drawing only up to a maximum of twenty-two and six-tenths feet of water.

This is far under the amount needed for modern ocean-going ships which draw in the neighborhood of thirty feet of water when fully loaded, he said.

In addition, the U-M engineer declared that climatic conditions would permit shipping through the seaway only about 240 days out of the year. Thus, transportation from the Labrador-Quebec ore mines would have to depend on railway shipping throughout the wintertime, he added.

American standards of living and working conditions of modern shipping vessels have climbed to such a peak that economic demands call for large crafts that can handle enormous cargoes, Professor Baier said.

Under the proposed seaway plans, only foreign "tramp" steam-

Set Deadlines For GI Schools

Director Informs Vets Of Limits

A notice pertaining to deadlines for filing applications for approval of training programs has been received by Conan E. Fisher, who has been in charge of the Gladstone GI institute.

All veterans whose services with the armed forces were terminated on or before the close of the war, July 25, 1947, have until July 20, 1951 for filing an application for approval of training.

Those veterans whose services were terminated after July 25, 1947 and are eligible for training the last date for filing an application is five days prior to the fourth anniversary of discharge.

The institute is extremely valuable to veterans who failed to finish their high school education, Mr. Fisher points out. At the institute they may make up the subjects and qualify for a diploma.

Juvenile Golfing
Starts Yesterday

Kid golfing got off to a flying start yesterday after being rained out Tuesday, the first scheduled day of the summer program.

Between 25 and 35 youngsters, 10 to 16 years, reported for initial play at the Indian Lake course, leaving here by bus at 9:30 a. m. and returning at noon.

John Kasun, jr., served as instructor at yesterday's session. Arthur Hall has agreed to supervise the Tuesday morning play.

Church Joins In Fourth Campaign

Rev. William H. Schobert, pastor of the First Baptist church, has pledged his church to a nation-wide "Freedom Under God" observance of the Fourth of July, sponsored by 50 famous Americans including former President Herbert Hoover and General Douglas MacArthur.

Recognizing the peril the nation faces in militant communism and fascism, Rev. Schobert declares his church will do its part to make this community conscious of its American heritage.

According to the Baptist pastor, the 175th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence will be observed by churches ringing their bells at noon on July 4; by clergymen of all denominations preaching sermons on "Freedom Under God" on the Sunday preceding the Fourth; and by millions of Americans pausing on July 4 to re-read the Declaration of Independence.

Sponsor of the celebration is the newly formed committee to proclaim liberty. Membership includes top-ranking figures in religion, labor, management, education, government and the entertainment world.

"The purpose of the committee," Rev. Schobert said, "is to revive a custom long forgotten in America—spiritual emphasis of the Fourth of July. It's time again."

Two Parades To Feature Fourth

Main Procession Starts At 9:30

Two colorful parades will highlight Manistique's Fourth of July celebration next Wednesday. The first procession, scheduled to start promptly at 9:30 a. m., will be composed of a large number of marching units led by Henry Jahn, veteran of the Spanish-American War, as marshal of the day. The parade will be composed of the following units: American Legion drum corps with colors, the National Guard, the Manistique Municipal band, the VFW colors and drill squad, combined veterans groups, auxiliary groups, Girl and Boy Scouts, commercial vehicles, and National Guard vehicles.

Assemble at 9:15

Parade units are instructed to assemble by 9:15 a. m. at the intersection of Deer and North Fifth streets. The procession will move eastward through the west-side and east-side business districts to Oak street, east on Oak to Maple, and north on Maple to a point near the A. F. Hall stadium.

William Cowman, parade chairman, reported yesterday that there is room in the procession for several more floats and decorated cars. Business firms which have not entered floats are invited to do so.

The children's parade, sponsored by the Manistique Women's club, will be held at the stadium immediately following the main procession. Children are to assemble in the high school yard and enter the stadium by the north gate. Spectators will use the main entrance.

Children will make one circuit of the stadium track as they parade. Prizes will be awarded for various types of costumes. Children up to 12, inclusive, are eligible to enter.

Seek 500 Entrants

It is hoped that a minimum of 500 youngsters will take part in the procession, and the entire local area is eligible to send entries, including the Garden Peninsula, Nipmuc, Engadine, Naubinway, Gould City, the Curtis area, Grand Marais, and all of Schoolcraft county.

In addition to Mrs. E. T. Lundstrom, chairman of the children's

Three Injured Near Thompson

House Trailer And Truck Topped

A pick-up truck pulling a house trailer, part of a gypsy caravan passing through Manistique, was involved in an accident at 10 a. m. yesterday a mile west of Thompson. Three occupants of the vehicle were injured and required medical treatment at the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital.

Those injured were: Mrs. Mike Mitchell, 31, leg bruises; her 19-month-old son, James, who suffered bruises, and her daughter, Barbara, 6, who sustained a cut under her right eye. Driver of the truck, Mike Mitchell, 31, was unhurt. The two children were dismissed after treatment but Mrs. Mitchell was still a patient at the hospital last evening.

They gave their address as Clintonville, Wis. The accident occurred when an empty car carrier, driven by Kenneth Osworth, 39, of 713 Grand Traverse, Flint, attempted to pass the Mitchell vehicle. The truck and house trailer sideswiped the passing car carrier, then went out of control, ran off the highway and rolled over. Both machines were traveling east.

The car carrier, owned by the F. J. Boutell company, Flint, was undamaged. Damage to the Mitchell machine was estimated at $200 by state police.

Most of the gypsy vehicles were escorted through Manistique and sent on their way, reportedly to a gypsy convention in Detroit where a new gypsy king is to be named. Four gypsy vehicles, however, camped in Central park, near the quarry pool, yesterday noon and spent last night there, awaiting the dismissal of Mrs. Mitchell from the local hospital and the completion of repairs to the Mitchell vehicle.

Hectic Trail Leads To Court

Two Are Nabbed For Tippy Driving

James Chambers, 35, of Manistique route one, was arraigned yesterday morning in local justice court on a drunk driving charge, but the trail which led him there was rather hectic.

Highlights along the way besides a little inebriated motoring on the westside Wednesday included an attack on the state police officer who arrested him, a trip to the hospital to have his head bandaged after the trooper subdued him, and later an assault on a prisoner at the county jail when Chambers was finally deposited there to await arraignment.

The assaulted jail inmate, Armas Garden and Face to Face.

Burial was in the Cooks cemetery under the direction of the Morton funeral home. Pallbearers were Otto Winkel, Joseph Haindl, John Haindl, Herbert Olson, Herbert Gray and Lawrence Wilson.

E. Mantyla, 39, of Lansing, also required hospital treatment after Chambers struck him. Like Chambers he was being held on a drunk driving charge.

Pleading guilty at his arraignment yesterday, Chambers was fined $50 and costs of $3.75, his driver's license was revoked, and he was sentenced to spend 90 days in the county jail. Eighty days of the jail sentence will be suspended if he pays his fine and costs and makes restitution for other damage done, including payment of the hospital charges for himself and Mantyla.

Mantyla was arrested by state police in Manistique township for drunk driving and was fined $50 and costs when arraigned Wednesday in justice court here. He was unable to make payment at his arraignment and was remanded to jail until he could make necessary financial arrangements. It was during this period that Chambers was brought to the jail where he promptly took a poke at Mantyla, a complete stranger.

Mantyla paid his fine and costs yesterday and was released. His driver's license, however, was revoked.

Sally Stewart Is Married Monday To Ivan John Brock

In a ceremony performed at the St. Francis de Sales church on June 25, Miss Sally Anne Stewart daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart, 708 Park avenue, became the bride of Ivan John Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Brock, 431 North Houghton avenue. Rev. F. M. Scheringer officiated at the 9 a. m. ceremony.

Mixed flowers and candles decorated the altars and the wedding march was played by the church organist.

The bride wore a navy blue silk street length dress made in princess style with a large white pilgrim collar. Her corsage was of red roses.

Miss Betty Stewart, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Ann Marie Sheahan, bridesmaid. Michael LaFleur served as best man. The maid of honor was attired in a white figured silk dress with matching accessories. Miss Sheahan wore a silk aqua colored street length dress with matching accessories. Their corsages were of mixed flowers.

For her daughter's wedding

Mrs. Stewart chose a navy blue two piece rayon dress. Mrs. Brock, mother of the groom, was attired in a gray print dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of mixed flowers.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to 25 guests at the Stewart home. A reception was held later for 200 guests at the VFW hall.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brock attended Manistique high school. The groom is employed at the Pioneer Tribune. The newlyweds will make their home in Manistique.

Announcement

By the

EDISON SAULT ELECTRIC COMPANY

The Edison Sault Electric Company is now operating the electric utility in the City of Manistique and Hiawatha Township, and it is believed by the Company that the customers of the utility and the residents in this area will be interested in knowing something of the Edison Electric Company and its plans and hopes for the future.

The Edison Sault Electric Company has served Sault Ste. Marie since 1892, the rural areas adjacent to it since 1914, resort areas in Cedarville and Hessel since 1928, Mackinac Island since 1929, and the City of St. Ignace since 1931.

In 1932, the Company built a transmission line from Sault Ste. Marie to St. Ignace and Manistique, Mackinac Island was connected by submarine cable to this transmission line. Since 1932, the major portion of the power supply in Manistique has been furnished by the Edison Sault Electric Company.

The Company is proud of the fact that it has not increased its residential or commercial rates for a period of more than ten years despite the constant rise in cost of material and labor during this period.

The Edison Sault Electric Company will do all in its power to assist in the growth and development of Manistique, and will cooperate with the city officials and the Chamber of Commerce of Manistique in bringing any new industries to the city.

Arrangements have been made with The Mead Corporation whereby, for a period of 5 years, the generating facilities of that company, through the pulp and paper mill, will be available and will be used to supply the present Manistique distributing system in case of a failure of the transmission facilities of the Edison Sault Electric Company between Sault Ste. Marie and Manistique.

The Edison Company has faith in the future growth of Manistique, and the present plans of the Company call for the installation of a generating plant at Manistique, before the expiration of the 5-year agreement with The Mead Corporation, of sufficient size to carry the Manistique area and provide for future growth. The carrying through of such plans would thus give the Manistique area two sources of power: the transmission line from Sault Ste. Marie, and the new plant contemplated for Manistique.

The Edison Company is pleased to serve the residents of the City of Manistique and Hiawatha Township, and looks forward to a prosperous and progressive future for the community.

Bark River Posts 1-0 Win Over Hermansville

HERMANVILLE — Pitcher Mel Sandrin walked in the winning run in the top of the ninth inning here last evening as Bark River edged Hermansville 1-0 in a Tri-County baseball league makeup game.

The victory moved the Bark River nine up into a tie for first place with the Escanaba Bears. Both teams have seven wins, one loss.

With one away in the ninth, Frank Salvage singled over second and stole second, pulling a leg muscle in the effort. Dale Erickson was sent in to run and took third as Ben Kleiman laced one to the shortstop behind second base.

Run Forced In Sandrin then issued an intentional walk to Babe Kleiman, leading the bases. Dave Kwarcianny fanned for the second out. Chuck Olson drew the walk that forced in Erickson with the lone run of the game. Next batter flied out to the shortstop to end the inning.

Hermansville threatened in the bottom of the ninth. Leno Pier-

Little Tension In Ranks Of Sox

CHICAGO — (P) — There is little tension in the ranks of the White Sox although their American league lead has dwindled to a precarious one-half game.

Take, for instance, the scene in their dressing room yesterday as rain washed out the game with Detroit. . .

Manager Paul Richards wanders about watching his players munching cookies sent up from Kenedy, Tex., by Jim Busby's mother. . . "We can't beat the weather," he philosophizes. "We're in fair shape on make-up games and maybe we can get our rotation of pitchers working on the timetable again."

With a longing look in his eyes, Richards mentions the Yankees' Vic Raschi. . . "We haven't a pitcher that can go every four days like that Raschi. . . The

All-Star Voting Will End Tonight

CHICAGO — (P) — The nationwide vote of baseball's fandom for starting lineups in the All-Star game at Detroit July 10 ends at midnight tonight with record ballot casting assured.

Latest tabulations show a total vote of 3,564,559, more than 400,000 over last year's record. Final returns will be announced Sunday.

The 16 starters will play at least the first three innings. The American and National league squads are managed by Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees and Eddie Sawyer of the Philadelphia Phils, respectively. Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' slugging left fielder, continues to be the overall top vote-getter with a total 1,138,419. Nellie Fox, White Sox second baseman, is second with 1,126,454 while Boston's Ted Williams is third with 1,114,604.

Al Brandt's Junior Team To Manistique

Al Brandt's junior baseball team, boasting a season record of 17 wins in 19 starts, will make its first long road trip tomorrow for a game at Manistique.

Coach A. M. McComber will pitch Duane Dubord against the Manistique junior team, he announced today.

Summer Skiing Here On Fourth Jump At Ludington Park In Evening

Well known skiers of Iron Mountain, Ishpeming, Stephenson, Gladstone and Escanaba will participate in the summer skiing exhibition to be staged at Ludington park 7:30 Wednesday evening as a feature of the Fourth of July celebration.

John Grodesky, of the Escanaba Ski club, sponsor of the unique event, said today he had received word from Joe Perrault of Iron Mountain that he would ski in the show. Perrault holds the record on the Iron Mountain hill with a jump of 297 feet.

A scaffold will be erected on the hill at Ludington park near the west tennis courts. Straw and chipped ice will be spread on the slope to make a runway for the skiers. A special chemical preservative, known as "snow cement," will be applied to the chipped ice to protect it from the summer heat.

The exhibition will be held under the auspices of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Escanaba Ski club.

Summer skiing is a recent innovation, and has been tried out successfully at Rockford, Ill., Racine and Kenosha. A recent news reel depicted a similar event held at Portland, Ore.

Match Play Opens In 33rd PGA Tourney

OAKMONT, Pa. — (P) — Is was a man against man, instead of man against Oakmont, as match play started today in the 33rd PGA championship.

Sixty-four of the nation's sharpest shotmakers survived yesterday's drama-draped qualifier — shooting 154 or better — to get into the title bracket, and they'll be whittled down to 16 in today's double round of 18-holers.

The first three-way tie for the medal in the classic's history popped up, with Pete Cooper of White Plains, N. Y., Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Palm Beach Fla.; and dapper Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., deadlocking at 142, two under the card.

Three-Way Tie It was the first time Oakmont's vaunted par had been trampled over the 36-hole route in a National tournament. And Mangrum, with 71-71, is the only man ever to shoot two successive sub-par rounds over the 6882-yard par 72 stretch of rolling, well-trapped terrain.

Chandler Harper, last year, unexpected victor from Portsmouth, Va., was just behind the pace-setters with a par 144. He ran into veteran campaigner Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., in his opening match today.

Harmon was booked against a 149 shooter, Cooper banded in to Denny Shute, the Akron, O., grabbed the laurels in 1936 and 1937, and Mangrum was opposed by Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill.

Snead-Haas Snead, always a top threat in the PGA, had Freddie Haas of New Orleans as his opening foe, while Henry Williams, jr., of Kutztown, Pa., runner-up last year at Columbus, O., opposes Cleveland Gene Kunes.

The three-way playoff for the medal, exceeded only by a four-way tie in 1939, found mustachioed Mangrum at his best in conversation with the customers. On the first extra hole he hooked into the rough. The galleryites milled around.

"Watch yo' hoids" he called as he flailed away with his two-iron.

"I guess it's a healthy situation, though," concedes the astute Lane. "Last year they only wanted balls autographed by visiting teams."

"Talk about health," interrupts Eddie Short, the publicist. "Look at these figures: In 27 home playing days we've drawn 510,839 customers, paid, as compared to 345,422 over the same time last year. . . We'll have the first million mark in Sox history this season. . . The record is 983,402 back in 1946 when we finished fifth."

"Who said something about fifth? Cracks second-sacker Nellie Fox nearby. "We start a four-game series with the Browns and we've beaten them six out of seven times this season. And while we have the Browns the Boston Red Sox and Yankees are cutting each other's throats. We're in a good spot."

General Manager Frank Lane looks on. "We autograph about 250 baseballs a week and that is running into so much money I think we'll buy cheap balls to use for signing purposes. . . When I go out to dinner the waiters ask for an autographed ball and the clerks do the same thing when I go to buy groceries. . . I don't ask for a knife and fork, or a free box of cereal to take home with me. . ."

Cubs Face All-Stars Tonight

American Legion Junior baseball, Detroit all-star variety, will be offered here at 6 o'clock this evening at the city hall diamond.

Escanaba fans will have their first opportunity to witness the brand of ball played by Juniors from below the Straits when the all-stars take on the Escanaba Cubs in an exhibition contest.

The game here will conclude the first U. P. tours in history of a

Irvin Homers Giants To 5-4 Victory Over Dodgers

Frank Miller's sparkling one-hit performance against St. Louis last night didn't have as much effect on the National League race as Monte Irvin's two home runs for New York's 5-4 edge over the leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Irvin hit Nos. 11 and 12 off Ralph Branca to clip the Dodgers' lead to five games. Branca took a 4-2 edge into the eighth, thanks to a leaky four-error defense by the Giant infield.

Don Mueller's single and a bunt single by Whitey Lockman set it up for Irvin to blast Branca's first pitch deep into the upper left field seats for his second homer of the game.

Hodges Whiffed Sheldon Jones, who relieved Dave Koslo in the sixth, poured a third strike past home run king Gil Hodges, who stood with his bat on his shoulder, for the final out of the game. The potential tying run was on third base.

The National League staged another of its "dawn" games, due to rain interruptions at Cincinnati where the Pittsburgh Pirates finally edged the Reds, 7-5, in a game ending at 12:39 a. m. (EST).

The Pirates got away on top and had a 7-1 lead after six innings. It barely lasted. Rain held up the game three times— for 44 minutes in the first inning, 52 minutes in the third and 25 minutes in the ninth.

Cincy had the tying runs on base with two out and 3-2 on Johnny Wryostek when time was called in the last inning. When they resumed, Wryostek fouled out to end the game.

Eddie Sawyer's efforts to shake the Phillies out of their day-dreams by banishing Mike Goliath to Baltimore apparently worked in a 3-2 win over Boston in 10 innings. Tommy Brown, Goliath's replacement, scored from second on a force out when Roy Hartsfield threw wild to the plate in the 10th.

Yanks Reduce Lead Casey Stengel needed two pitchers—Tom Morgan and Joe Ostrowski—to shut out Washington, 3-0, as the Yankees reduced idle Chicago's American league lead to one half game. The White Sox's scheduled day game with Detroit was washed out after half an inning.

Pinch Hitter Cliff Mapes came through with a three-run double off Sid Hudson in a typical Yankee explosion in the eighth inning.

Hudson wilted in 90 degree heat after allowing only three hits through the first seven innings. He faced only 22 batters over that stretch.

St. Louis, Cleveland, Boston and Philadelphia were not scheduled. Line scores: NATIONAL LEAGUE Brooklyn 100 000 0-4 9 0 Cincinnati 100 010 00-3 13 1 St. Louis 100 010 00-0 1 1 Hiller and Edwards; Staley, Brazle (9) and Rice.

Power & Light smashed Paper Mill 5-2 in an American Softball league upset last night, shooting over all five runs in a seventh-inning rally.

Bud Kennelly, catcher, paced the Power & Light team at the plate with two hits in three times. Bill Courneene and Jim Fitzpatrick shared mound duty, with Courneene scattering five hits in the first six innings.

Paul Larson was the losing pitcher with Dave Larson behind the plate for the league leaders.

Harnischfeger edged Ev's Bar 2-1 in the other half of the American League slate. Ev's registered first in the initial inning with Harnischfeger knotting it up in the second.

Winning Run Kippy Derouin, Red Sox right fielder, tripled in the third and scored on a long fly by Keith Morin to break the tie.

Tom Bryak gave up six hits on the Ev bar with John St. Martin catching. John Pierpon went the distance for Harnischfeger, scattering four hits. Lloyd Fazer was catcher.

Mel Olson had two hits for the losers, Howard Rousha two for the winners.

St. Thomas protected its lead in the National League by beating Liberty Loan 9-2. George Bartley allowed five hits for the winners while his mates reached McCarthy for seven. Duane Peterson picked up two safeties to lead St. Thomas at the plate.

The Old Timer St. Thomas team also turned in a win, topping the Daily Press 10-2 with Bill Doucette notching the mound victory.

Near No-Hitter

ST. LOUIS — (P) — Frank Hiller came within one hit last night of pitching the first no-hit game at Sportsman's park in more than a quarter of a century—and that one hit glanced off an infielder's fingers.

The hefty righthander faced only 27 batter—the minimum three per inning—in pitching the Chicago Cubs to a 8-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals. He struck out seven.

Enos Slaughter spoiled the potential no-hitter with a fifth-inning single to left field. It was Slaughter's 1,700th hit during his career in the National League.

"That ball just touched my fingers," said Frank Cusick, the Cub shortstop. "You can ask Frank about that."

The only other Cardinal to reach first base was Tommy Glaviano, the first man to face Hiller. He drew a first-inning walk. Both Slaughter and Glaviano were retired in double plays.

Stan Musial, the National league batting champion, struck out twice during the contest.

Hiller, who won 12 and lost five for the Cubs last year and now has a 5-5 record this season, admitted it was the best game he ever pitched.

Reserve Clause Okay By Hutch

Says Players Will Support Owners

CHICAGO — (P) — The reserve clause has the okay of major league players, according to Detroit Tiger Fred Hutchinson, who is American league player representative on baseball's executive council.

The controversial clause, which gives a club exclusive rights to a player's services, will be a major subject at the executive council's meeting in Detroit July 9, he said.

"At that time players will pledge their support to the owners," Hutchinson said. "Apparently congressmen who introduced bills to make the reserve clause unlawful did not take the trouble to find out what major league players think about it."

"The clause has been under continuous attack for the last few years, but most of the criticism has come from disgruntled players who did not have the stuff to make the big time or stick once they got there."

The players, he added, are almost unanimous in the belief that the contract clause, in the long run, helps them as well as their clubs.

"If we didn't have the reserve clause," he said, "a team with limited money would never have a hope of developing a winning team and the rich club would have all the top players."

"This would ruin baseball and enable only the most spectacular players to make decent money."

Brothers Decide Not To Take $254,000 Estate In England

AKRON, O. — (P) — James N. Gape, Cuyahoga Falls, O., salesman, decided today he would remain in the United States. But he still hopes to share in a $254,000 British estate left by a cousin.

Gape was offered the estate on condition that he and his family would move to England for life. The deadline for the decision was tomorrow.

In a statement, he said: "I have to make a decision and my wife and children join me in the decision to remain in the United States. We hope there may be some legal way of adjudicating this matter so that we do not have to give up our American citizenship and still have the bequest."

"However, if that is impossible, we shall remain here."

Gape's cousin, Mrs. Sibyl Gape, specified in her will that Gape could have two manors and 1,000 acres of rolling land in Cambridgeshire, England.

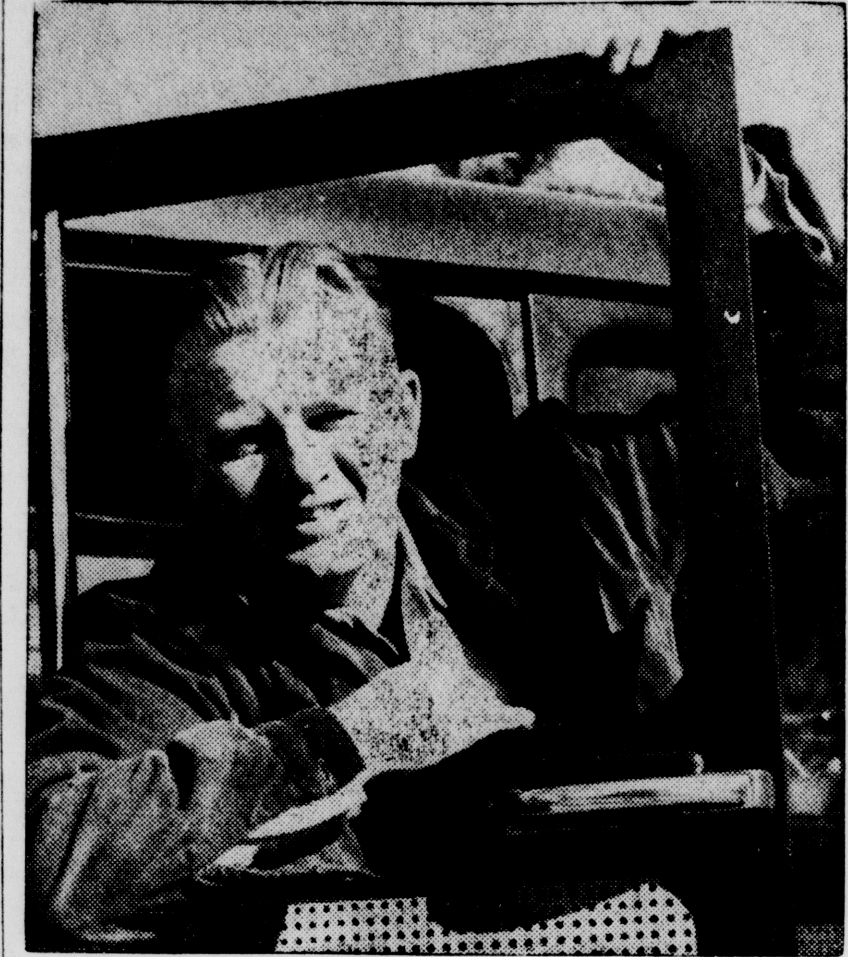

If he refused to move to England, which would mean giving up U. S. citizenship, the property was to be offered to his brother, Kenneth Gape, also a salesman, in Detroit.

Yugoslavia Requests Armaments To Meet Pressure From Reds

WASHINGTON — (P) — The United States has received a formal request from Communist Yugoslavia for a powerful array of armaments to counter what it calls continuing pressure from the Moscow bloc of Red nations.

The request was submitted yesterday to Secretary of State Acheson by the Yugoslav ambassador, Vladimir Popovich. American officials already had made plain they are willing to provide Yugoslavia with "very substantial" quantities of arms—probably somewhere near a billion dollars worth in the next 12 months—if Congress approves.

Much of the money, it is indicated, would come out of the pending $8,500,000,000 foreign aid bill.

Yugoslavia broke with Moscow three years ago.

U. S. Has Four In Wimbledon

Tournament Enters Round Of 16 Today

WIMBLEDON, England — (P) — Seven of the 10 seeded players, 10 nations and five continents were represented in the Wimbledon tennis championship as the tournament entered the round of 16 today.

After three rounds of play, the United States heads the list with four survivors from the starting field of 128 players. The remainder includes two Australians, two Frenchmen, two Swedes, one Italian, one Dutchman, one South African, one Brazilian, one Englishman and one Hungarian, the only contender from an iron curtain country.

American champion Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., his runner-up Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., and 17-year-old Hamilton Richardson, of Baton Rouge, La., are the remaining Americans.

All are rated as having a good chance to come through, especially with a couple of tough hoppers like Jaroslav Drobny and Gardner Mulloy now resting on the sidelines.

Drobny, seeded second behind Frank Sedgman of Australia, was taken into camp yesterday in perhaps the most astonishing upset of the tourney, when Tony Mottram of the British Davis cup team whipped him, 5-7, 6-4, 2-6, 7-5, 8-6.

Mulloy, from Coral Gables, Fla., and rated No. 9, was dropped by a young Italian, Fausto Gardini, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Drobny and Mulloy thus joined Defending Champion Spectator of Los Angeles in spectators' roles. Patty was eliminated by Richardson in an early round.

Bomber Plunge Kills Eight Off Key West

KEY WEST, Fla. — (P) — Eight navy men were killed and one escaped with a broken leg today in the crash of a patrol bomber.

One of the men was alive when taken from the water by rescue craft but died of injuries after reaching the naval hospital. Identity of the victims was withheld pending notification of their families.

The big twin-engine plane was taking off when the accident occurred. "Witnesses said the two-engine aircraft cartwheeled before it sank upside down in 12 feet of water."

Ailing Petain, 96, Taken From Prison

PORT-JOINVILLE, ILE D'YEU, France — (P) — Ailing former Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, 96, was transferred from the prison of Fort De La Pierre-Levee today to a private mansion here.

Petaim, head of the Nazi-sponsored Vichy government during World War II, received a medical pardon June 17 because of his great age. The marshal had been condemned to life imprisonment for his wartime collaboration with the Germans.

He rode the mile and one quarter distance from the prison to his new home in a heavily pillowed cradle slung in a car.

Disabled Get Cars

DETROIT — (P) — The Detroit office of the Veterans Administration will remain open until midnight Saturday to handle last minute applications for cars from disabled veterans. The law authorizing the VA to provide cars for some disabled ex-servicemen expires at midnight Saturday. The VA said a total of 1,151 cars have been provided to Michigan veterans under the program.

In the shuffle, a provision which would have exempted 21 Michigan stock insurance companies from the tax was stricken out.

Williams' statement said that the total deficit at the end of the 1951-52 fiscal year, including current deficits, was estimated at up to $80,000,000. The lawmakers' action "is totally inadequate to meet the state's financial needs," he said.

He said the measure, however, was "a step towards a corporation profits tax * * * the only measure which will do the job."

By suspending rules, the legislature sent a new bill to Governor Williams increasing the maximum workmen's compensation benefits for death or total disability from $6,000 to $10,500.

The original bill was vetoed by Governor Williams because of defective wording. The new measure met his objections and was expected to be approved.

The six other measures vetoed by the governor during the month long legislative recess, including a measure advancing the primary from September to June, were killed when the necessary two-thirds votes could not be mustered.

Democrats Stick Together

The veto of the primary bill was overridden in the senate, but it ran into solid opposition by Democrats in the house who control a total of 34 votes, one more than one-third.

Democrats in both houses said the real purpose of the measure was to give Republican candidates longer to campaign against Democratic incumbents.

Republicans said it was necessary to permit servicemen and women overseas to have time enough to return absentee ballots. They accused the Democrats of being "afraid of the soldiers' vote."

Other bills which were killed when vetoes were sustained would have revised the regulation of pharmacy, returned $200,000 of the oil and gas severance tax to producing counties, relieved sheriffs of liability for the actions of their deputies, increased the fees for teachers' institutes and set standards for applications of local units for state appropriations to rebuild tuberculosis sanatoriums.

Sessions Limited

Both chambers adopted a new rule designed to shorten the regular legislative sessions in even years, approved by the voters last November.

The rule sets up a series of deadlines designed to limit the even-year sessions to 13 weeks.

A companion resolution designed to prevent consideration of the state budget in the last few days of the legislative session passed the senate but was defeated in the house when ways and means committee members objected the action was too hasty and that a study should be made.

The house killed a senate proposal to let the vocational rehabilitation program of the Department of Public Instruction overdraw its account by $150,000. Officials claimed this was necessary to make up a reduction in federal aid and prevent the firing of 39 employees.

Funds Authorized To Build New Ferry Docks At St. Ignace

LANSING — (P) — Last minute action by the legislature today had assured that the State Highway department's icebreaker-ferry, now under construction, will have proper docking facilities at the Straits of Mackinac.

The legislature approved the transfer of $1,305,184.99 from the highway department's general construction fund to finance the completion of the dock projects.

Also approved was the transfer of $170,000,000 from similar funds for additional cost of the ferry, made necessary by esculet clauses in the contract.

Principal items in the dock project are the cost of a warehouse, administration building, sewage disposal system, pier paving and fill at St. Ignace. The total also includes fill and paving at the Mackinac city dock.

Michigan Republican Leadership Sought; Committee Formed

LANSING — (P) — A new attempt to supply leadership to the Republican party in Michigan was under way today.

A "program committee" to act as the top policy and strategy agency for the party in the absence of a Republican governor was being organized. Its first meeting was set for "around August 1."

Such a policy committee was organized when Governor Williams first took office in 1948, but it fell into disuse and finally had become entirely inactive by the time of Williams' reelection last year.

The new committee, whose members are still to be appointed, will be made up of six representatives, six senators, four members of the state administrative board and four chosen by the state central committee.
